
'Recycling For America'

A Reynolds Metals Company mobile can recycling unit made its first appearance in Appomattox Tuesday as part of an educational program on the environment by the aluminum firm. The unit - a complete can collection center on wheels was stationed at the Intermediate School from 1:45 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. Reynolds has 10 fully equipped reclamation centers plus 11 mobile units. The operator pays 10¢ a pound for all-aluminum beverage cans and used household aluminum scrap. Proceeds from Tuesday's project will benefit the Appomattox county 4-H program. This is a company and public cooperative effort in the fight against litter and conservation of aluminum as a resource.

Job Corps To Recruit In The Area

Mr. James A. Wolfe, Virginia Employment Commission, announced today that the Job Corps Recruitment Bus will be in Appomattox on Thursday, October 21, 1971 from 1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. The mobile recruiting station will make the following stop - Court House Area

Job Corps is a government-sponsored residential training program for disadvantaged young men and women. These youth must be between the age of 16 and 22 and be able to benefit from the vocational and academic training they receive. This training can last as long as two years, depending upon the cource of study. During that time, members of the Corps will live at one of the Centers. There they will be given an opportunity to improve their reading and math ability and receive job training from qualified instructors.

Since 1965, more than 276,000 youth, out of school and unable to get a job, have sought a new direction in life through Job Corps. A large percent of these youth are now working and paying their way in society.

Job Corps training is not easy. New adjustments must be made and new ways of living must be learned. However, those youth who have the motivation and desire to succeed have found that the Job Corps Program met their needs.

The Virginia Employment Commission invites you to visit the recruiting station where detailed information about Job Corps is available. Don't overlook the fact that in Job Corps you can earn while you learn.

Dodson Appoints Campaign Treas.

Bertram F. Dodson, independent candidate for State Senate in the 18th senatorial district, has announced the appointment of David U. Campbell, assistant vice-president of Fidelity National Bank and manager of the bank's Brookville branch, Lynchburg as campaign treasurer.

In accordance with Virginia's new election law, which requires each General Assembly candidate to report officially the name of his treasurer and to place on record the treasurer's written acceptance of the position, Dodson has certified Campbell's authorization to be printed on all of Dodson's campaign literature.

When his appointment was announced, Campbell said:

"Virginia needs more businessmen in the state legislature. State government is the biggest business operation in the Commonwealth, It is not enough to have capable administrators and business leaders in the executive branch of the government. They are urgently needed in the legislature, as well.

"Bert Dodson's record of business success, beginning at an early age when he founded his present business, marks him as the king of 'common sense' businessman that Virginia needs in the Senate.

"During his eight years as a member of the Campbell County Board of Supervisors he demonstrated that he handles the public's money as carefully as he does his own. For example, when he was chairman of the supervisors, he saved the county hundreds of dollars by insisting that competitive bids be solicited on repairs to the courthouse instead of awarding the job on the basis of favoritism, as had been done under some previous administrations.

"Bert Dodson is also a practical, down-to-earth tobacco farmer. With a warm, outgoing personality, he is well qualified to talk to rural people about farming, cattle-raising, and other agricultural activities. He favors industrial development and is particularly interested in encouraging new industry, to check the exodus of young people from the farms to the big cities.

passbook savings
interest compounded continuously

You want to save money, right? And you want the money you save to be safe, and to earn a lot of interest.

Well, this is a fact: with your money in a Fidelity savings account, it will actually earn more for you than in a lot of other banks. We call it the new math.

Here's why. To start with, we pay 4.5% on passbook accounts. So do some other banks. But here's the difference ... Fidelity compounds your interest continuously, day after day, so that at the end of a year, it's built up to 4.60%. And since we do it this way, you don't lose it all if you have to make a withdrawal. You get every cent of your interest right up to that very day.

There isn't a bank anywhere that will pay you more interest on your savings than we do. And Fidelity has 25 conveniently located offices throughout Central and Southside Virginia to make it easy for you.

The new math. From Fidelity. Naturally.
